Roblox is a free online game created by Roblox Corporation that allows players to create their own game using Lua coding, a very simple scripting language. Players can design their own worlds, complete creative activities, and play mini-games. Each player creates a unique character and draws the world that their character is going to explore. After the world is created, players can pick their own occupations, such as a farmer, a police officer, or a painter. As the player explores the world and interacts with the other characters, the player collects items, explores new areas, and completes different activities. Players can customize their characters and outfits, which vary from just a simple shirt, to outfits that look like something from the real world. Customization can include everything from the amount of hair to the hairstyle, clothing, and even shoes and accessories. Players can share their creations with others, which allows them to create an endless amount of content. Roblox has a small selection of online games that can be played with up to four people simultaneously, but most activities are unique to the player's world. Players can create their own houses to live in, using a variety of items to furnish it. Players can play music, watch videos, play mini-games, read books, browse the internet, talk with other people, and much more. With over half a billion player accounts, Roblox is popular with children and teenagers, but has grown to include other demographics. The platform has a large base of hardcore players who expect to find the largest amount of content possible. It was named one of TIME magazine's 50 Best Websites of 2011. There is no such thing as life after death. Without a living person around to observe it, everything that occurs is in an illusion. In the illusion there is an experience with an observer. Reality is an observer. Everything that you think you know about the universe is an illusion. There are no such things as inner thoughts, dreams, ghosts, demons, or angels. They are merely illusions. There is no God, Satan, Goddess, Messiah, Buddha, or Krishna. There is only life, death, and an illusionary reality. A magical barrier exists between the illusionary world and the living world. You are as solid in the illusion as you are in the living world. Thank you for sharing your ideas, thoughts and beliefs. I've come across many articles about spirituality and religion on the Internet. I have questions and comments to share about my own views. Is this a place to do that? I hope so! About Me I've recently created this blog to answer questions, provide answers, and post my latest thoughts on different subjects that I explore. The internet is so big and you never know when you might find an answer or when I might notice something you need to know. I'd love to answer any questions you might have so don't hesitate to ask.
